Expansion of Hospital Up to Commissioners

Whether or not the question of a bond issue will be submitted to the voters of Fayette County at the coming election Nov. 6, to build a wing on the Fayette County Memorial Hospital, has been placed in the laps of the Fayette County commissioners.

Following an executive session of the commissioners and the four members of the board of trustees of the hospital, at the Court House Friday, it was learned that resolutions from the hospital board and also from the members of the hospital medical and surgical staff, favoring expansion of hospital facilities, would be placed before the county commissioners for action as quickly as possible.

The resolutions from the hospital medical and surgical staff were in the hands of the hospital trustees Thursday. These are being attached to the additional resolutions which the hospital trustees were said to be preparing for the commissioners Friday afternoon.

When the county commissioners will meet to take action on these resolutions is uncertain, but probably such a meeting will be held the first of next week, although it is known that at least one of the members of the board will be away at that time.

If the question is to go on the November ballots, it must be acted upon by the Fayette County Board of Elections before the middle of September. The request for such submission must come from the county commissioners by resolution.

There was some indication on the part of the county commissioners, after their joint meeting with the hospital board Friday morning, that they would like much more information on the whole matter before they decide that a bond issue should be submitted. They say the hospital trustees have not presented complete plans and estimates for such a wing as has been proposed, although a general idea of the whole proposition has been discussed.

Roughly, according to estimates heard, the proposal most talked about is for a 20 to 26 bed wing which would provide several private rooms, a children's ward and possibly an isolation ward for contagious diseases. It has been estimated that the cost of construction, plus equipment for the additional rooms would be somewhere close to $150,000.

Macabre Mystery Still Baffles France

By ROBERT C. WILSON

PARIS, Aug. 31—(AP)—France could use a couple of Sherlock Holmeses today to help solve three baffling mysteries which have brought violent death to 17 persons.

Where did the grain come from that went into the bread in the little southern town of Pont-Saint-Esprit—bread that killed four persons and set at least 40 others writhing in the agonies of "St. Anthony's fire?"

Did kindly, matronly Marie Besnard, 53, feed fatal doses of arsenic to her two husbands and 10 other persons, including close relatives, in-laws and friends? They all died between 1927 and 1947 and Madame Besnard—now in jail awaiting trial—acquired a great deal of wealth during that time, much of it in legacies.

Is it the body of Madame Marta Smighly-Rydz, widow of the late Polish Army Marshal Edward Smighly-Rydz, that was found under a bridge on the Riviera in July? If so—and police think it is, though the head, legs and arms are missing—who did it?

CASE NO. 1: Police figure they have got the bread deaths partly cleared up. The bread was poisoned by Ergot, they say, a fungus disease that hits cereals in rainy spells and causes what was known from medieval times as "fervent fever" or "St. Anthony's fire".

The weird malady struck the Rhone River port Aug. 17. Some 200 persons called urgently for medical help—some of them screaming they were surrounded by fire and monsters and some trying to commit suicide. There are still 37 persons in the hospital.

CASE NO. 2: Back in 1945, Leon Besnard, second husband of Madame Besnard, died in the little town of Loudon in western France. Everyone thought it was from natural causes until a tip from neighbors caused police to dig up his body in 1949. They said tests showed he died of arsenic poisoning.

This led them to dig up 11 other bodies and all of them, said the police, were drenched in arsenic. Madame Besnard has flatly denied the charges.

Examinations show she is sane. But now a bombshell has exploded on the eve of her trial. Toxicological experts, acting for her de-

Chinese Motive At Truce Meet Baffles Allies

Commie Forces Being Bolstered In Korea, Report

TOKYO, Aug. 31—(AP)—An Allied spokesman said today "there is no indication there will be a permanent breakdown" in truce talks to end the Korean war.

The spokesman made the statement amid a welter of new Communist charges that United Nations forces violated the Kaesong neutral zone in Korea.

The UN command began an immediate investigation of the new complaints. All previous charges have been denied.

At Munsan, advance headquarters in Korea of UN truce negotiators, Major James MacMaster told newsmen there was no sign of a final breakdown in the talks.

The Allied spokesman amplified his statement only by referring to the announced UN willingness to resume talks whenever the Reds are ready. Communists broke them off eight days ago.

Other sources observed that neither side wants to assume responsibility for renewing full scale warfare.

No Answer from Reds

The Reds have not answered Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's offer to resume negotiations and they maintained official contact between truce delegations by the mere act of filing new protests.

Kentucky Night Clubs Knocked Off in Raids; Scanty Girls Picked Up

NEWPORT, Aug. 31—(AP)—State police knocked off two northern Kentucky night clubs early today in the biggest gambling raid in Kentucky history.

Led by Guthrie Crowe, commissioner of state police 68 persons were arrested and elaborate gambling equipment confiscated in the plush Latin Quarter and the Club Manana, both in nearby Wilder.

The raiding patrolman said they also planned an assault on a third Campbell County gambling spot, but did not have time enough to get a search warrant.

A woman listed as the operator of the Manana was charged with running a disorderly house. Four girls, clad only in panties and brassieres, were among those taken in from the Manana. They were charged with breach of the peace.

Five employees of the Latin Quarter and five at the Manana were charged with setting up and operating games of chance. Forty-four persons were arrested on gambling charges and two for breach of the peace at the Latin Quarter. In addition, six men were taken in for gambling and one for breach of the peace at the Manana.

Sure Is Hot Here; Mercury Hits 100 Just after Noon

Well, you really were justified in mopping your brow and wishing for your shorts (and nothing more) Friday. The official temperatures recorded by Observer Coyt Stookley tell the hot story.

At noon the mercury had climbed to 99½ degrees. Stookley said he thought it would bear watching; so he did.

At 12:45, the temperature hit 100 degrees right on the nose—that was the highest of the summer.

Because of the sticky heat, Stookley said he was going to keep an eye on the tested instruments the rest of the day.

If he thought it might go higher, he was not alone.

The mercury had made a right fair sort of climb during the day, at that. It started out at 77 at 8 o'clock after reaching a low of only 71 during the night.

Partial Eclipse Early Saturday

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—Early risers tomorrow will see a partial eclipse of the sun.

The phenomena will be visible on all of the Eastern Seaboard and west of the Mississippi River.

The sun will rise here partly eclipsed at 5:21 A. M. (EST). The shadow will deepen until 6:01 A. M. (EST), when about 87 percent of the sun's surface will be blotted out. The shadow then will start to fade, disappearing at 7:10 A. M. (EST).

The last eclipse visible in the U. S. was April 7, 1940. The next is scheduled for May 30, 1944.

Bus Rams into Truck; 3 Passengers Killed

KENOSHA, Wis., Aug. 31—(AP)—A Greyhound bus rammed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck last night on double-laned Highway 41, bringing death to three of its 37 passengers. Eight more hospitalized with injuries.

Kenosha County Sheriff Leonard J. Jensen reported the truck driver said the accident occurred as he pulled back onto the highway after parking on the shoulder of the road when he became drowsy.

Kidnaped Girl Found On Train - Man Missed

ZANESVILLE, Aug. 31—(AP)—Zanesville police said today they are holding 15-year-old Nancy Kinney, reported kidnaped Aug. 14.

They said two Zanesville officers took the girl from a Chicago train at Willard. They said she admitted she had been in Chicago with Chester Risen, 28, Columbus, accused of kidnaping her from Zanesville.

Police said the whereabouts of Risen is unknown.

Farmer Killed By Fall of Car

Frank Henthorne Victim of Accident

Frank Henthorne, 39, a farmer residing on the Hopkins farm immediately east of the site of the now abandoned French Airpark on route 22, four miles east of Washington C. H., was crushed to death under his automobile late Thursday afternoon.

Henthorne had been checking and greasing his Packard car, at his home, and had one wheel off. The car was supported by a hydraulic jack, which Sheriff Orland Hays said apparently slipped from under the car and allowed the car to crash down and crush Henthorne as he lay partly under it.

The full weight of the car caught him across the chest and head, and it is believed he was killed instantly, probably by a broken neck.

He had been at work on the car sometime when Mrs. Henthorne called to him. When she received no answer, she went to investigate and found his body pinned under the car. Apparently he had been dead for some little time.

Mrs. Henthorne called Sheriff Hays and her father, Sheriff Hays and the coroner, Dr. N. M. Reiff, investigated and found death was accidental.

Missing Girl's Body Hunted in Woods

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31—(AP)—Detectives were digging today in a wooded section of Brooklyn village after receiving a tip that missing 10-year-old Beverly Potts had been struck by a car and buried there.

Deputy Inspector James E. McArthur said two teen-age youths and a 19-year-old girl, "hot rod" enthusiasts, were being questioned about the affair. The three gave conflicting stories of where they were last Friday night, the evening Beverly disappeared, McArthur said.

In another move, police searched a house on West 130th Street where the 19-year-old girl was a roomer. The house and wooded section in Brooklyn were barred to newspaper reporters.

Police also were hunting for a blond, 16-year-old boy friend of Beverly Potts.

July Traffic Toll Under Estimates

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—(AP)—The nation's motorists put on the brakes and surprised the National Safety Council with a comparatively low death toll in July.

In a report issued today, the council said that while traffic fatalities increased in June by 18 percent over June of 1950, the July toll of 3,150 fell back to the same total as last year.

The first seven months of this year showed 19,470 highway fatalities—an overall increase of seven percent over the same period in 1950.

Continuation of Broad Crusade For Law Enforcement Is Urged By Committee as Its Term Ends

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The Senate crime investigating committee called on cities across the land today to band together in a war on organized crime and grafting public officials.

In a final report to the Senate on its sensational 15-months-long inquiry, the committee told of "captive communities" held in bondage by the twin evils.

The committee goes out of existence at midnight tonight. But it strongly urged Congress to carry on the crusade and that with federal help only at the start a privately financed national crime coordinating council be created to keep "the searchlight of public vigilance turned upon crime and corruption."

The committee aimed stinging thrusts at Florida's Governor Fuller Warren and, by indirection, at William O'Dwyer, ambassador to Mexico and former mayor of New York.

The report also pictured Washington, the nation's capital, as a possible "pivotal point for gambling operation of considerable size." There is evidence, too, the committee said, "of widespread traffic in narcotic drugs" in the District of Columbia.

The group recommended a new Senate committee make a "thorough investigation" of crime conditions here, especially any tieups between criminal elements in the capital and adjoining areas.

The committee denounced "a startling increase" in drug addiction among the nation's teen-age youth, described dramatically at its televised hearings. It placed the blame on the same gangland

'Slow Tornado' Crossing Ohio

COLUMBUS, Aug. 31—(AP)—A

tornado was reported moving over Ohio today, but Weather Bureau officials said they were not alarmed.

Jack Bolton, superintendent of the Columbus airport, said an airline pilot reported sighting what he called a "slow moving tornado" while flying 10 miles north of Zanesville. He made the report to the Cincinnati Air Terminal weather station, and the report in turn was transmitted to the Columbus airport weather station.

Bolton quoted weather officials as saying they were not concerned or alarmed about the report.

The pilot reported the tornado appeared to be moving north-east.

As a precautionary measure, Port Columbus ordered all planes secured.

Slot Machine Loss Is Operator's Now

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 31—(AP)—This may be the first time slot machines ever lost money.

A self-styled slot machine owner said last night he is junking more than $25,000 worth of slot machines because Ohio's new law makes it a felony to own them.

And he expects to get out of them is about $200 from a scrap dealer.

The owner, Jerome A. Distel, is pretty unhappy about it. He told a reporter he already has sold 20 machines, valued at $200 each, for $38 for scrap.

Old Fashioned Apple Butter Still Being Made Outdoors By 90-year-old Woman Here

Mrs. Laura McCoy makes apple butter the old fashioned way.

There are many indications to herald the coming of fall.

To the more modern, such things as school starting, leaves to be raked and football season, are the signposts which point the way to the fall season.

To those who have spent many useful years of living, there are other heralds of the approach of fall.

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williamson on East Paint Street smelled a certain mouth-watering fragrance which, many years ago, was a distinct indication of the approach of fall.

The aroma, which tempted the taste buds of many who smelled it, came from an ancient copper kettle in which were boiling apples.

Few of the younger generation could have told that Mrs. Laura McCoy, Mrs. Williamson's mother, was making apple butter, for the art of making good homemade apple butter has given way to modern mass production.

She's Only 90 Years Old

Mrs. McCoy, who incidentally, is 90 years old has been making apple butter all her life. "My father was a farmer and we always made all types of butters," she said. Among the different kinds Mrs. McCoy mentioned were pumpkin butter, peach butter, pear butter, and tomato butter that rarely appeared on the grocery shelves.

The McCoy family came from Pike County, Mrs. McCoy was one of 11 children. A younger brother continued to farm in Pike County after the rest of the family moved to Fayette County some 60 years ago. "He got a little too old to farm a couple of years ago and had to give it up. He is now 86."

One sister of Mrs. McCoy's lives in Washington C. H. She is two and a half years older than Mrs. McCoy.

Drought Is Broken In Northern Ohio

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31—(AP)—Cleveland's long dry spell ended with a splash today.

Site at Circleville Optioned by Du Pont For New Industry

CIRCLEVILLE, Aug. 31—(AP)—Officials of the DuPont Co. of Wilmington, Del., today announced that options have been taken on a 435-acre site south of here.

Harold Brayman, DuPont public relations director, said: "The land is being purchased for use in the company's regular commercial business. However, plans have not been sufficiently developed to announce either the type or size of operation that may be located there."

The site is in a general farming district two miles south of Circleville, and consists of two adjoining farms lying between U. S. highway and the Scioto River.

One farm of 160 acres is owned by Mrs. Paul Adkins of Circleville. The other of 275 acres, is owned by Ward Walton of Upper Sandusky.

T-H Law Is Invoked For Copper Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—President Truman last night invoked the Taft-Hartley Act emergency provisions in an effort to end the widespread strike which has shut down the nation's copper industry.

But negotiators for the copper companies and labor went ahead today, anyway, trying to settle the wage dispute among themselves. If an agreement is reached, no government action would be needed. This has happened before.

In three of the previous nine times Mr. Truman used the emergency provisions of the act since it became law over his veto in 1947, cases did not go all the way through to the court-injunction step which forced an end to strikes.

The strike, which Mr. Truman earlier termed a serious threat to the national defense program because copper is a scarce and critical metal, started Monday.

Draft Policy Trial Extension Announced

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The Defense Department announced today it is extending until Nov. 30 its trial policy of permitting draftees to join the service of their choice even after they have pre-induction physicals.

The department said the experiment has worked out well thus far. Whether it will be continued beyond November, a spokesman added, depends on what happens during the next three months.

The second extension of the policy was to have expired today.

Mrs. Leafy Edwards New President Of WCTU - Convention Held Here

Mrs. Leafy Edwards was elected president of the Fayette County WCTU at its annual convention at the Grace Methodist Church last Thursday.

The convention was divided into morning and afternoon sessions.

Other officers elected for the 1951-52 year were Mrs. Frank Haines, vice president; Mrs. A. H. Finley, recording secretary and Mrs. Homer Garringer, treasurer.

Mrs. E. L. Scott was the chairman of the nominating committee.

Some of the suggestions made by members at the meeting included: providing ministers with short statements on the evils of alcohol; erecting a bulletin board in the community for posters showing the effects of alcohol.

Other suggestions were for films on alcoholism to be shown in schools and at Sunday Schools; have ministers preach on the subject during Temperance Sunday; furnish pledges for young people; have an essay contest and send and give tracts, either from the street corner or through the mail.

Mrs. Frank Haines, outgoing president, presided over the all-day session.

Union Reports Given
Presidents of the various unions in the county gave their reports on work done by their group during the previous year.

Those who gave reports include: Mrs. Peter Smeltzer, Washington C. H.; Mrs. Russell McCoy, Good Hope; Mrs. Eldon Bethards, Martinsburg; Mrs. Eben Thomas Bloomingburg and Mrs. E. L. Scott, Sugar Grove.

The Jeffersonville union's report will be heard at a later date. Reports of Mrs. A. H. Finley, county secretary, and Mrs. Homer Garringer, county treasurer were approved.

Reports from the various departments were also given by the chairmen of the departments.

The different chairmen and the departments on which they reported included: Mrs. Margaret Case, child welfare; Mrs. Leafy Edwards, Christian citizenship; Mrs. Jean Nisley, flower mission and relief; Mrs. Beryl Cavine, institute; Mrs. Homer Garringer, visual education; Mrs. E. L. Scott, soldier and sailor and Mrs. Arch Riber, spiritual life.

Morning Session

Mrs. B. E. Kelley opened the morning session of the convention with a piano solo, "Meditation". Mrs. Arch Riber gave the opening devotion and concluded with a poem, "If We Could See."

Mrs. Haines gave a short talk on the need to help those who need help.

She closed the morning session with a prayer and the members adjourned for a covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. Jean Nisley and Mrs. Homer Garringer were in charge of the meal.

Mrs. Kelley also opened the afternoon session with a medley of songs followed by Mrs. J. F. Wilson who offered a plea to curb the terrible curse known as the ever present evil.

She told of a personal experience involving a cousin who had trained for missionary work, but who died when she was only 26. She related how the minister had asked, "Who will fill the place that this young lady has so capably tried to fill?" Mrs. Wilson said six young ladies volunteered to help in the task.

Mrs. Carson Maddox, in her report on publicity, said that its success depends on loyal cooperation.

Alcoholics' Hospitals
Mrs. Garringer gave a talk on hospitals for the alcoholics. She based her talk on an article about alcoholics in Columbus. She quoted the writer as saying that alcoholism was a disease. She said if it was a disease, it was a self-inflicted one.

Rev. Allan W. Caley was the main speaker of the afternoon session. He discussed the desire of young people to taste alcohol to see if it tastes as good as grandma said it isn't.

He also told some of the effects which were attributed to alcohol. There are 75,000 chronic alcoholics, Rev. Caley said. He added that delinquent parents, who leave their children alone are partially responsible for child delinquency.

Memorial services were also held during the afternoon session.

Mrs. Eldon Bethards read the poem, "Time," and sang, "Guide Me, Oh Thou Great Jehovah," accompanied by Mrs. Kelley. The services were held for Mrs. Lydia Mayer and Mrs. Arizona Holdren.

Symposiarch Meets At Crawford Home

Nearly every member of the Washington C. H. Chapter of Symposiarch got a chance to make a speech at the meeting Thursday night at the country home of V. F. Crawford.

Col. Max G. Dice, who was to have had the program for the meeting, had to make an unexpected trip to the west coast from the Wright-Patterson Air Base; so Belford F. Carpenter, the president, hurriedly arranged a substitute that was unique here.

Charles S. Hire, was assigned the role of toastmaster for the evening and the task of developing an extemporaneous program.

Without warning to the other members, he called on one after another for responses. Their subjects were of their own selection, made after they had been called on.

The program went so well, and covered such a varied field from humor to serious, that it went on for more than two hours.

The program after a typical summer supper. Co-hosts with Crawford were Hugh Sollars of near Good Hope and Colin C. Campbell of the Jeffersonville pike. Their wives, however, did such a good job of handling the kitchen detail that Carpenter suggested that an auxiliary be created for the occasion with the three as charter members.

Guests at the meeting were Victor Luebner of Shreveport, La., Fred Crawford of Plain City and L. T. Hartman of Jefferson Township.

Symposiarch is an organization made up of members of college Greek letter fraternities. The chapter here was formed last March with 37 members.

Virginia Robinson, 17, of Route 4, Hamilton, and Ronald Rivers, 18, of Route 3, Mt. Sterling, have been selected as the most outstanding 4-H club girl and boy in Ohio.

Their selection came at the Ohio State Fair, and was based on their individual health examinations and club activities.

Some 68 4-H boys and girls were interviewed and examined during fair week before judges made the final selection.

Miss Robinson said she considers the summer of 1950 "the luckiest and the unluckiest year of my life." Selected that year to enter the county health contest, a chest X-ray disclosed a small spot at the top of her left lung. She was ordered to bed for three months and the spot vanished. At the beginning of this club year, she resolved to be "outstanding girl" in her county.

"I know now that health, like faith, must be almost lost sometimes in order to find it," she said. "And I know that I owe a great debt of gratitude to 4-H club work for grabbing me from a serious illness and making me perfectly well x x x."

Miss Robinson weighs 132 pounds, is 66 1/2 inches tall. She has been in club work seven years.

Rivers, who was graduated from the Mt. Sterling High School in 1950, weighs 146 pounds is 72 inches in height. He has been in club work five years, and helps his family operate a 612-acre farm. Each of the health winners will

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 31—(AP)—Advancing stocks failed to follow a following today in the stock market, and prices spread out over a thoroughly mixed range. Movements for more than a dollar a share either way were not unusual, but the more active issues usually traded at changes under a dollar. Steals in holding to the upside were joined by copper and some gold mining issues and by radio-televisions. Activity these other groups, however, was limited.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—(AP)—All by himself Senator Tom Connally, the longhaired Texas Democrat who is seeking re-election, raised and answered, at least to his own satisfaction, questions bothering a lot of people.

Why do we have to keep on giving foreign aid? How long can we do it without ruining ourselves? When does it end?

Connally, who is 74 but doesn't list his age in the congressional directory, didn't state his case all in one piece but spread it over a few days.

He's chairman of the Senate's foreign relations committee which, together with the armed services committee, decided Congress should trim about $1,000,000,000 off the $8,500,000,000 asked by President Truman for foreign military and economic aid.

On Aug. 25, when the committee let it be known they were advising the cut, Connally talked with newsmen. His particular peeve was the economic help we'd give under the Truman plan. He said:

"Sooner or later we have got to cut this economic program. We can't go on forever supporting the whole world with handouts to these nations just because we liked them—or for any other reason."

He had accused officials of the Marshall Plan, which had been set up strictly for economic assistance, of trying to "cover the earth" with money from American taxpayers.

But the military side of it was different, in Connally's view. For, as to military aid to nations lined up against Communism, he said national security "requires large expenditures to contribute to the military defense of areas which are vital to us."

In this talk undoubtedly he was representing the views of many taxpayers who resent working out more taxes for foreign people although the Truman administration argues that military and economic aid are both necessary and go hand in hand.

On Aug. 29, yesterday, the full Senate took up the foreign aid problem, for debate and vote, and Connally as chairman of the foreign relations committee made a speech.

Referring to the policy behind the foreign aid program, he said:

"The policy is that of strengthening the United States through strengthening our allies . . . it is the policy that recognizes that the United States cannot stand alone in a hostile world."

"It is the policy that seeks to promote world peace through helping the free nations of the world make themselves so strong that no aggressor will dare attack them."

He added: If this country and its European allies "now put our shoulders to the wheel and push ahead with this program, we can complete it within a relatively short period—say, three years or so—and then relax our effort somewhat."

"If we try to stretch it out, we are taking a dangerous gamble and one that I am not willing to assume the responsibility for."

If the two Connally statements are pulled together and boiled down, this is what he said: "This foreign aid program hurts, and how it hurts, but we have to do it to have allies in stopping Communism because otherwise we might have to stand alone."

But when he got into the field of prophecy—that the spending may taper off in three years—he may have been doing wishful thinking, even though he was comforting those taxpayers who are fed up on spending.

The problem of stopping Communism, short of war, may continue for years and maybe at even higher expense if new crises develop.

Just three years ago the problem of keeping Europe out of Communism seemed simple enough: We'd set up the Marshall plan and by 1952 we could drop

Flavor of Water In Prolific Well Is Now Improved

The taste of water coming from a well on the Barrison Brothers farm near New Holland, occupied by Morton Burton, shows a great deal of improvement since the well was pumped out and cleaned this week by Talmer Wise, Circleville fire chief.

One shoe, two glass jugs, one cake of red toilet soap, six brickbats, two clubs, two tobacco cans, one enameled cooking pan, one enameled kettle, one pump cylinder, one long hat pin, one marble, one bottle, one alligator wrench, one truck lug, one bottle of face lotion, one 1917 penny, one 1922 dime and a 37½-inch bull snake, alive.

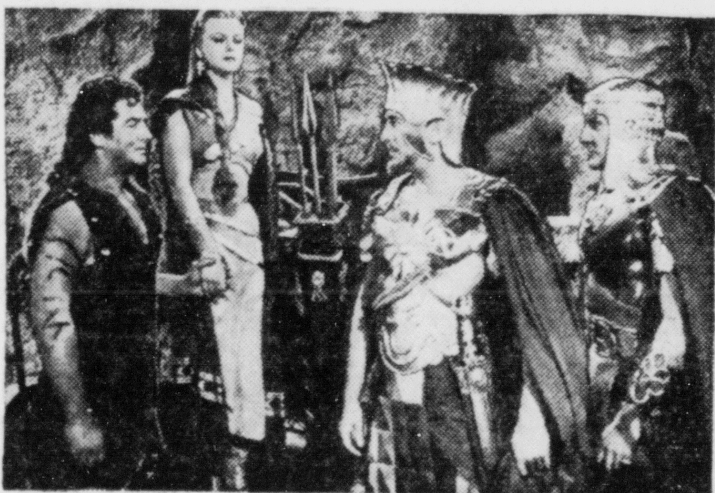

Stolen Auto Found Abandoned in County

An automobile, owned by John H. Weaver, of Hamilton, salesman, was broken into and stolen from the curb on Market Street early it because by then Europe ought to be okay.

But things got worse. We made a military alliance with Europe, and the Korean war came along, all of which called for more spending. And we have no assurance things won't get even worse.

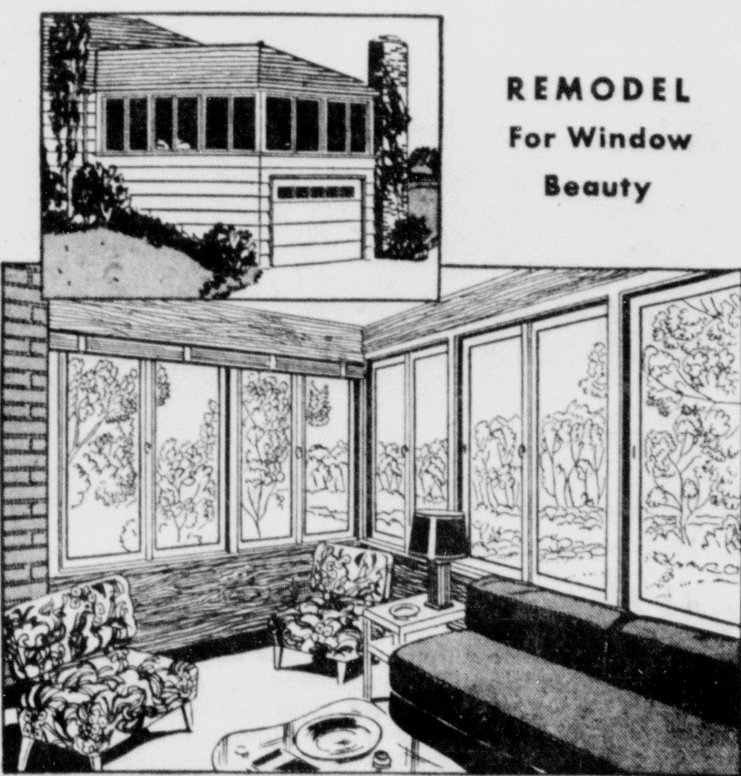

In the next three years—by 1954—government officials say we'll have to spend at least $25,000,000,000 on foreign military and economic aid, if we just go like we're going.

A HISTORICAL PICTURE OF the early days in the west, entitled "Warpath," is booked to open Sunday at the State Theater. The picture, a Technicolor epic, tells the story of thousands of Sioux warriors swarming down from Dakota's Black Hills to attack a regiment of U. S. cavalry. Edmond O'Brien and Dean Jagger head the cast.

The car had been stripped of a tire and wheel and two suits of clothing, a Winchester shotgun and 40 pairs of work gloves had been stolen from the vehicle.

The car was left standing in the middle of the road.

Sheriff Hays was notified and he and Chief Vaiden Long are investigating.

Then, early the next day, the chunks of apples were placed in boiling water in a big copper kettle which was placed over a fire out of doors.

Stirring is important. All the time the apples were

"I can't stir too much nowadays, Mrs. McCoy confessed, "but I can still do a lot of bossing."

When the apples are cooked soft and fine, sugar is added and the cooking and stirring continues until the apples are cooked down. Then cinnamon is added.

"It takes from five to six hours to cook 10 to 11 gallons of butter," Mrs. McCoy figured.

To really add that something extra, cider should be added. "We hunted all over, but could not find any," Mrs. McCoy said.

Punishment for Bad Traffic Violators

In a number of cities and towns close to Washington C. H. it is noted that complaints are increasing regarding reckless driving and too much drinking on the part of drivers.

In Washington C. H. no more of this than usual is noted although there is still too much.

Some local residents have been heard complaining recently about the speeding that goes on through the city streets by some motorists and in some cases, by truck drivers.

It is recognized that the police cannot possibly watch every street all the time and certainly not every driver. However, more people who show a reckless attitude, if brought into court, would result in a tendency to retard the careless and "don't care" spirit of some motorists. This can be done firmly and courteously by police officers, without fuss or fanfare. If the motorist makes a fuss, or wants to fight, his penalty should grow accordingly as long as he is definitely in the wrong.

Some effort has been made here to cut-down on truck noise although it still is a nuisance. It can be lessened only by constant attention to violators by the police, who seemingly are trying to do a pretty good job along this line here. However, there cannot be a let-up without going back to the same old troubles.

It will not be many months until the new municipal court takes over in this city. It will be a court of record and has the power to suspend drivers' licenses, which the present police court does not possess.

There is one penalty which has been found to be more effective than any other, the country over, in the matter of serious traffic law violations.

This is the revocation of driving rights, for long terms where advisable, especially in case of drunken and habitually reckless drivers.

If the motoring public knew, for instance, that even a first conviction for drunken driving would mean a fine, a jail term and loss of driving rights (not a mere fine in present time inflation dollars) there would be a lot less drunken driving once the word gets around. Experience in many cities proves this.

Wilful and serious violation of traffic laws is becoming one of our great problems in every community. The loss of life as a result is appalling and worst of all the innocent frequently are the victims. Drunken driving is one of the worst of these offenses and it is wilful. Any driver knows whether or not he has been drinking when he gets behind the wheel and ought to recognize that his normal judgement is affected accordingly. Most of the time he is lucky enough to "get by", but it only takes one slip, one bad accident, to snuff out a life, maybe several, or create injuries and damage which can bring remorse for years to come.

The Utah legislature has empowered counties to levy taxes to make rain. If legislators tried that in Kansas they'd get mobbed.

Argument for Korea Optimism

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(AP)—The campaign in Korea still is the strangest in the history of American arms.

For two months now more words than bullets have been fired in anger back and forth across that weary peninsula. Instead of trying to call each other's shots, each side has been calling each other names.

Only a year ago the North Korean order of the day was "On to Pusan." And the fledgling American army's grim instructions were to "stand or die" on the Nakdong River line.

Hal Boyle philosophy of all adversaries seems to be that comfortable old schoolyard slogan:

"Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me."

Begun in a misty dawn barrage, the Korean war is dwindling toward a stalemate conclusion in a twilight of verbal recriminations. It is like a summer storm with the stabbing lightning flashes dying down and the steaming hills muttering with distant thunder.

Those who insist the world should be all one thing or the other have a growing impatience.

They regard the cease-fire negotiations as a waste of time. But life—in war or peace—is more often gray than either a clear-cut black or white. And sometimes half a truce is better than none.

An optimist could put up a strong argument that the present long-continued lull in major ground warfare operations has been a good thing all around.

It is true that it has given the Chinese time in which to mass fresh reinforcements. But it has also given the Red Chinese leaders plenty of time to do some depressing thinking about how futile it is for them to mass troops.

Where can they lead them? The United Nations army is also bigger, stronger and more confident than ever. Its days of real retreat are over. It now has the reserve firepower to singe China's hordes as though they were so many mindless grasshoppers.

The depth of military stalemate, therefore has been increased. And the situation cries more clearly every day for a diplomatic solution. Red China's problem—and she knows it—is to pick the broken pieces of her false dragon face off the floor and try to put them back on straight. She knows the rest of the Orient will snicker at her, but there isn't much else she can do, important as saving "face" is in her part of the world.

is in her part of the world.

The lull has given South Korea time to train more troops and do something to help her millions of displaced refugees. And the average Korean farmer, looking at his greening paddies, can't help but pray to his household Gods that the unofficial truce will go on for another two months or so. That'll give him time to harvest his rice, the crop his life depends on.

This strange half-armistice also has been a lifesaver for scores of thousands of weary American veterans who took the brunt of heavy fighting from the start. It has given the army a chance to rotate them home and replace them with new troops. And for that reason alone many homes today hold a tremulous gladness.

Only a year ago it was still really nip-and-tuck whether the stars and stripes and the blue-and-white flag of the United Nations could stay in Korea.

No one who was there then can help but feel today the hope of a settlement of the Korean issue is nearer. The longer the talking goes on, the surer it is there won't be any more major battles.

Conversation is often boring, but it is rarely fatal. And the more anybody talks about fighting the less reason he sees for it.

Diet and Health Here Are Conditions That Need Watching

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
More and more women are following the wise practice of visiting the doctor for breast examinations at regular intervals. That even more should do so is evidenced by the tragic fact that 12,000 women die annually in the United States alone from breast cancer.

Since cancer of the breast is the most common type of the disease found in women, all women should be vigilant to discover any changes in this location, particularly since early treatment can produce a cure.

Diseases To Watch
Women should also be aware that certain diseases of the breast bear watching, since they seem to pre-dispose to cancer. The most common of these is chronic cystic mastitis, in which multiple sacs containing fluid form in the breasts.

It has been estimated that about four per cent of all women will develop some sort of breast tumor during their lifetimes. By no means are all of these malignant. Yet, many authorities believe all should be removed to prevent any possible cancerous changes from taking place.

In any event, a bit of tissue from every such growth should be examined under the microscope to determine its true nature. In no case is it safe to assume that a growth in the breast is harmless.

Examination Simple

The breast is one of the accessible parts of the body and its examination is very simple. Thus, there is no reason why women should not have a periodic check to determine whether or not changes are taking place. This simple precaution could result in the saving of many lives and the cure of many early cancers. For, with modern surgery, breast cancer, if diagnosed early, has a good chance for cure.

Usually, the surgical treatment is followed by X-ray. In the last few years, male hormones have been used in the treatment after surgery and X-ray, and some favorable results have been obtained by this method.

Corliss Lamont's Views on Russia

By George Sokolsky

In a pamphlet which is being widely circulated, Dr. Corliss Lamont of Columbia University, son of the late senior partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., makes this point:

"... Morally Communist parties are on an obviously higher plane than Fascist parties in that they have such aims as (1) complete racial democracy and non-discrimination; (2) full equality between the sexes; (3) educational and cultural opportunity for everyone; (4) a planned socialist economy of abundance on behalf of all the people; (5) the attainment of political democracy when the transitional need for dictatorship has passed; (6) the teaching of an inclusive and integrated philosophy of life; and (7) the achievement of international peace. In spite of the colossal blunder and act of international immorality on the part of the Communist-controlled North Koreans in committing aggression against South Korea, I am convinced that Communist parties are on the whole desirous of seeing world peace established.

"In the above seven points I have not tried to cover all the basic differences between the Communists and Fascists, but my summary indicates the relevance of the remark once made by John Strachey, now minister of war in the British labor government, namely, that Communism and Fascism are like two express trains going in opposite directions. The notion that Communism and Fascism are fundamentally the same is a dangerous untruth."

Dr. Lamont has for many years been one of the principal apologists in the United States for Soviet Russia and its creed. He has long been associated with the National Council of American-Soviet friendship. That per se does not make of him a Communist or even a Communist sympathizer. He calls himself a socialist and once wrote a book entitled, "You Might Like Socialism."

The quotation above contains several falsehoods by implication. For instance, any statement that Soviet Russia practices racial democracy is false on the record. As regards the Jews, the Volga Germans and several Asiatic races, Soviet Russia has practiced genocide with a completeness unparalleled even by Hitler. On this subject, the reader might find it advantageous to read Professor Solomon M. Schwarz's book, "The Jews In The Soviet Union," published by the Syracuse University press. The elimination of the middle class and the intellectuals from such countries as Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Lithuania, Latvia and even the Ukraine and their exile to Siberia, the Karakum Desert and Turkestan is one of the most horrible stories in history.

When Dr. Lamont suggests that Communist parties practice non-discrimination, he does not, of course, include the persecution of religions, which, to most human beings, is as offensive as genocide against races. All religions, Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, with the single exception of the Orthodox Church, have been obliterated. Some worship is permitted, but religious groups must have schools to teach their philosophy, to train their clergy and to prepare their children.

These are forbidden, as is the use of such languages as Hebrew and Latin.

The Orthodox Church is a political arm of the Soviet government, directly controlled by the state and employed to assist in the extirpation of other religious groups. It is under lay, political control.

It is interesting to note that wherever a Communist party takes over a country, it fights religion and imprisons and sometimes kills professional clergymen. This pattern has recently been adopted in Soviet China.

Dr. Lamont says that in Communist countries there is "educational and cultural opportunity for everyone." As one long associated with a leading American university, Dr. Lamont ought to be ashamed to call a system which provides for a state determination of what men may know and believe, education. Surely, there can be no "free inquiry," which is the essence of education, when the oligarchy can say what is right about philosophy, history, biology, art, and every avenue of thought, research and expression.

What about the Lysenko controversy in which the government decided what is true about genetics? What about Zhdanov deciding what music should be written by Shostakovich, Prokofiev and Khatchaturian? What about the elimination of all so-called "cosmopolitans" from the writing profession?

Surely, Dr. Lamont, who has been an advocate in the cause of Russia, has not been driven from Columbia University, nor has he been forbidden to write in favor of our enemy and in opposition to the stated policy of his government. Does he know and can he name one anti-Marxist who teaches in any university in Soviet Russia?

Each one of Dr. Lamont's points, except full equality of the sexes, can be demonstrated to be special pleading. The question arises: To what end is this done?

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH

The longest conversation of Jesus recorded in the New Testament -- and the most profound -- was one he held with a despised "foreigner," a reprobate woman of a mongrel race. In it he propounded greater principles of life, and proposed a greater concept of faith, than in any other interview he ever held.

It Began Unpleasantly

Long before the conversation began the unpleasantness started. He was under the necessity of going through Samaria, a dangerous adventure for a Jew -- one in which he might easily have suffered great indignities, and might even have lost his life.

His first contact with the woman at the well was unpleasant. The woman was strongly inclined to be disagreeable. For once in her life she had a helpless Jew at her mercy, and she proposed to make the most of her opportunity. She and her people had suffered much at the hands of the Jews, and now she had a chance to get some small revenge. The fact that Jesus had never harmed her made no difference. Those who are race prejudiced never discriminate between individuals.

Jesus Mystified Her

From the start Jesus mystified her. She was not accustomed to hear chance travellers talk about the great things of life. She was unprepared to listen to a sober discussion of a profound theme. She had set out years before in search of the surface satisfactions of life and had never learned to live in the company of great ideas. She found it difficult to understand a man who spoke familiarly of God, of life, and of inner sources of power. That, too, is one of the reasons some moderns find a church service dull.

It did not take her long to discover, however, that this strange Jew knew some secret. He seemed to be on such good terms with magnificence. In spite of her ignorance and her prejudice, the Samaritan woman sensed the fact that a deep desire was coming to life within her. And that mystified her even more.

Shall Thrive Again

It is one of the cynical facts of life that so very few satisfactions have any survival value. Thrills, sex, excitement, applause, popularity, fashions, best-sellers, headlines, sensations, our picture in the papers, party invitations, adulation, championships, election returns, praise, compliments, beauty contests -- everyone who drinks of these waters shall thrive again.

Nothing to Draw With

So many people live in the midst of beauty with no capacity to appreciate it; they sit at a radio which offers them symphonic music and they turn on syncope; they buy newspapers with the "funnies"; they live through days of destiny and spend their strength on canasta.

Prejudice Is Unthinking

It is impossible to reduce race prejudice to logic. The moment we think we have explained it in one part of the world it crops up in a new form in another section. It takes on one disguise among one race and another guise among another people. But all its forms and guises are ugly.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for September 2: "Christian Relations Among Races," John 4:1-14; Acts 10:25-28; Colossians 3:11.

Race prejudice is a corrupt fruit of the emotions, never a ripe fruit of culture or scholarship. The victim of race prejudice is hardly more to be pitied than the perpetrator thereof.

If Christianity is not able to solve the problem of living together in spite of racial differences, then it can never lay claim to being a saviour for this world. A church that is not healing the differences between peoples who are equally honest and equally sincere is not serving a Lord who would take time beside a well to discourse on profound themes with a woman who had been schooled in prejudice.

Pulpits Exchanged By Presbyterian Pastors for Day

Rev. John K. Abernethy is coming back to deliver the sermon at the First Presbyterian Church here next Sunday.

While the former pastor of the church is in his old pulpit amid familiar surroundings, Rev. Harold Braden, his successor here, will occupy Rev. Abernethy's present pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church in Coshocton.

A spokesman for the church board who made the announcement explained that the exchange of pulpits for the day was arranged by the two ministers to give Rev. Abernethy a better opportunity to visit with his former congregation members and Rev. Braden a chance to become acquainted with members of the Coshocton Church.

Rev. Abernethy made many personal friends within and without the church membership when he was here. He has expressed the hope that he would be able to see as many of them as possible Sunday.

Yanks Take Lead As Indians Lose

Dodgers Beat Reds As Giants Tumbled

By RALPH RODEN (By The Associated Press)

This is the time of year that second division clubs get the most fun out of baseball--knocking off the contenders.

The Philadelphia Athletics are a good example. They will have to pay their way into the World Series but have been raising merry bud of late with the top four teams in the American League flag chase.

The A's, a sad seventh, knocked Cleveland out of a first place tie with the New York Yankees yesterday, beating the Tribe, 6-2, for their second straight setback over the Indians. The idle Yankees moved a half game out in front.

During the past few weeks the A's also have split eight games with the Yankees, divided six with the third place Boston Red Sox and took three out of four from Chicago's fourth place White Sox.

ROOKIE LEFTHANDER Morrie Martin, with help in the eighth from Carl Scheib, posted his tenth victory against four setbacks in downing the Indians yesterday.

Bob Feller, gunning for his 21st victory, was tagged for his seventh defeat. The A's clipped feller for a pair of runs in the second and added four more in the third. An error by outfielder Bob Kennedy with the bases loaded and two out permitted three of the four third-inning runs.

Martin was lifted in the eighth after he forced a run home by walking Luke Easter with the bases loaded. Scheib came on and got Al Rosen to bang into a double play to end the rally.

The third place Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers, 10-4, to move to within 4 1/2 games of the Yankees. The Red Sox led the game with four runs in the ninth. Ellis Kinder saved the game by stopping the Tigers on one hit over the final 3 2/3 innings.

IN THE NATIONAL League, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated Cincinnati, 3-1. The Pittsburgh Pirates clipped the New York Giants, 10-9, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Philadelphia, 6-3 and the Boston Braves swamped the Chicago Cubs, 16-2. The Dodgers' victory and the Giants' defeat moved Brooklyn seven games out in front.

Preacher Roe and Clyde King stopped the Reds on seven hits under the lights at Brooklyn. Roe left in the seventh when his pitching arm tightened but gained his 18th victory against two losses. Connie Ryan homered for the The Dodgers tied the score against Ewell Blackwell in the fifth and won out in the sixth when Gil Hodges singled home Duke Snider from third.

Home runs featured the Giant-Prate game at New York. Ralph Kiner won the game for the Bucs by belting his 37th homer in the ninth inning. Rookie Frank Thomas, Gus Bell and Pete Castiglione also homered for the Pirates while Willie Mays banged two and pinch-hitter Bill Rigney one for the Giants. Murry Dickson, working in relief, picked up his 16th victory for the tail-enders.

THE BRAVES POUNDED a trio of Chicago pitchers for 15 hits to allow Jim Wilson to coast to his sixth victory. Wilson and Sam Jethroe led the assault with three hits each. Earl Torgeson chipped in with a three-run homer. Roy Smalley accounted for both of Chicago's runs with a homer in the seventh. The Braves locked up the division in the fourth inning, scoring six runs on four hits and two errors.

Veteran left-handers Al Brazle and Harry Brecheen collaborated in pitching the Cards to victory at Philadelphia. Brazle worked the first six innings and received credit for his fourth victory. The Cards jumped on rookie Niles Jordan for four runs in the fourth inning to win the game. Doubles by Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter and Billy Johnson featured the Cards' big fourth.

Indian Manager Still Hopeful Team Will Pull Out of Slump

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31--(AP)--Dismayed, but still hopeful, Manager Al Lopez looks for his Cleveland Indians to pull out of their slump soon and for the New York Yankees to weaken in the stretch.

"Our slump is coming at a bad time, but it's something you had to expect," Lopez said after his club's 6-2 loss to Philadelphia yesterday. "We did go real good for a while."

"I'm looking for those Yanks to go into some kind of a rut. They've not been in a real rut all year. The White Sox were in one, so were the Red Sox, and now it's us."

"It's going to be a close race all the way through."

Lopez never has come out with a prediction his Indians would win the pennant, and it will be a lot later in the season than now if he ever counts them out.

But the freshman pilot had hoped fervently the Tribe could build up a five-game hold on first place during the current 18-game home stand.

Lopez changed his outfield for tonight's game with St. Louis when Bob Lemon, who has won seven in a row, goes after his 17th victory.

Barney McCoskey will start in right field in place of Bob Kennedy, and Dale Mitchell will be back in left, after a one-day rest.

"McCoskey has experience, and maybe he will give us a little added strength," Lopez said.

McCoskey came to Cleveland from the Cincinnati Reds on waivers July 22 and has four hits in 14 times at bat. He has a lifetime average of .315.

"We've had batting slumps before this season--bad ones--and we've always bounced back," Al said. "We can snap out of it, and I believe--I mean I know we will."

"We've had men on the bases, but it takes that one hit in the right spot. We're bound to get it soon."

With a scrimmage with Xenia Central's Buccaneers behind them Friday (tonight), the Lion grid-ers of WHS faced some concentrated workouts next week in preparation for their first big inter-school competition next Friday night.

The scrimmage at Xenia is getting to be an annual affair, but the coming SCO League football prevue is something new for Washington C. H.

The five SCO schools--Washington C. H., Wilmington, Circleville, Hillsboro and Greenfield--plus the school in Franklin, over on the Miami River, will take part in the football festival at Gardner Park here.

Play is to start at 7:30 P. M. and the admission price is $1.

There will be a lot of football during the prevue. And, it will be just like a regular game, except that the teams will be on the field for shorter periods.

The purpose is two-fold: (1) To give the fans a prevue of things to come on the SCO gridirons and (2) Give the teams some game experience before the season opens the following Friday.

THE WHS LIONS PLAY their first game at Columbus with the Linden-McKinley High School team.

The Lions, both Coach Fred Pierson and his assistant, Coach Curt Koons, are obviously happy about the physical conditions of the Lions. Pierson figured the month of workouts the boys undertook "on their own" before the season opened, put them at least two weeks ahead on the practice schedule.

But the WHS mentors have other worries, not the least of which is developing flankers.

Of the 11 lettermen back, plus a half a dozen more who had experience last year but not enough to win a letter, there was not one with more than a speaking acquaintance with the ends.

Pierson, who is undertaking again the task of building a line, has been doing a lot of shifting around and thinks he is coming up with something pretty good if inexperienced. Two of the boys he is counting on to plug the holes are Joe Wilson and Wayne Van-Meter.

The principal concern about the backfield is over the scant reserve strength. The probable regular starters--Bob Alkire, Neil Childress, Carl Smith and Charles Holbrook--are putting a rosy tinge on Coach Koons' chores.

Duke of Lullwater Wins $32,000 Stake

DUQUOIN, Ill., Aug. 31--(AP)--Four of the world's fastest pacers are entered in the $10,000 mid-America today in the windup of the Grand Circuit racing week at the Duquoin State Fair.

Scottish Pence, Prince Jay, Dudley Hanover and Highland Ellen are slated to go in the $10,000 event, which climaxes a meeting which was highlighted yesterday by the distribution of slightly more than $100,000, an Illinois record single day's purse.

Taking down the biggest amounts on yesterday's eight race card were Duke of Lullwater, winner of the $32,000 Castleton stake, and Gander, split victor in the $31,000 McMahon Memorial.

The other rich races, trotting and pacing divisions of the championship stallion stake for a total of $23,000, resulted in major upsets. In the trot, Hattie Song, a rank outsider, won the second and third heats after Spennib had knocked off the opener, Mainliner, Hambletonian winner, finished 2-2-5.

H. D. Hanover surprised the 12,000 spectators in the stallion pace by upsetting the highly favored Tar Heel in straight heats.

War Against Crime

which, it charged runs "the lucrative field of illegal gambling, often operating under corrupt official sanction."

The evils it described, the report said, were found to be as deeply rooted in the medium sized cities as in the big ones, and named some names to back its point.

Florida Governor Rapped
The report rapped Governor Warren of Florida for "persistent refusal" to testify under oath in the committee's inquiry into the Florida underworld. The committee charged that Florida gambling "is controlled by interstate syndicates and unsavory associates of men in high office."

"Throughout the Florida testimony," the report added, "the name of Governor Warren cropped up frequently in questionable connections."

Unlike an earlier report, which aimed directly at O'Dwyer in biting language, this one referred to him impersonally in reciting testimony that mentioned names of gangsters as among the friends of the former mayor.

RECOMMENDATIONS: A "privately constituted national crime coordinating council" should be established; it would be a clearing house "for information regarding local action taken in connection with the illegal sale and use of narcotics."

The treasury department should have a narcotics bureau to train local law enforcement officers; and convicted drug peddlers should be given stiffer penalties than are now provided.

There should be uniform state laws on "gambling, vice, narcotics, racketeering and related areas of criminal activity." Barbiturate (sleeping pill) drugs should be sold on prescription only.

State prosecutors "should take the initiative wherever possible to insure better coordination" in the courts.

The public should have "officially sponsored crime conferences." State and federal income tax returns should be screened for activities in crime.

State laws against political contributions by racketeers should be considered.

FINDINGS: "America has been jolted to its foundations by the discovery that youngsters, especially in larger cities, are using narcotic drugs, many to the point of addiction. New York, Chicago, Baltimore and Washington, D. C., "saw big increases in the number of under-age drug users coming to the attention of police."

"x x x The mafia is believed to derive the major source of its income from the distribution and smuggling of narcotics. Charles "Lucky" Luciano, "the operating head" of the secret underworld order, is a "notorious gangster, vice king, and racketeer, deported convict, now a resident of Italy."

"Mystery and secrecy enshrouds the movement of illegal narcotics within the United States."

The problem of narcotics "calls for vigorous and effective action at all levels of our social and governmental system."

"Local communities over the nation can make real contributions toward insuring the rehabilitation of addicts by providing adequate mental health services where they may seek and receive understanding and intelligent advice."

"A dangerous situation has arisen involving narcotics drugs" in towns across the Mexican border. "A great step forward would be accomplished if the growing of opium poppy were prohibited on a world-wide scale."

CONCLUSIONS by locales included: Kentucky -- "the committee's investigators visited the Beverly Hills Country Club, the Latin quarter, the Yorkshire Club, and the Alexandria Club, all in Campbell County, and found them to be operating openly. x x x

"In Kenton County the situation was similar, except that the establishments were smaller and operated more surreptitiously. Those in operation were the Look-out House, the Country Club, the Press Club, the Gold Horseshoe, 514 Club, the Kenton Club, and the Turf Club."

The "principal qualifications" of Sheriff Ray Diebold of Campbell County "seems to have been that he once served as a 'good will' man for a brewery. x x x."

Mystery in France

fense ladies, say all the soil where the bodies were buried contains an abnormal 200 grams of arsenic per cubic yard. How the arsenic got there hasn't been explained yet.

CASE No. 3: On July 17, the torso of a woman was found in a sack under a bridge at Cros-d'utelle, a village near the Riviera resort City of Cannes.

After tracking down 12 false identity clues, police finally said they were convinced it was the body of 57-year-old Madame Smithly-Rydz, who had been missing for two weeks from the Monte Carlo home she had occupied for several years.

The clue to her identity, police said, was a pair of panties with a Hollywood label on them that an American woman said she had sent to the Polish woman.

For weeks police have questioned hundreds of persons but nothing has come of these investigations so far.

Ohioan's Jap Fiancee

To Come to America

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(P)—The Senate has voted to let the Japanese fiancee of a Lancaster, Ohio, war veteran come to the United States to marry him.

It passed a bill to grant permanent U. S. residence to Kiyoko Matsuo, who became engaged to Martin Boyer, 23, when he was stationed in Japan with the occupation army.

The bill now goes to the House.

General Holiday Here Labor Day

Survey of Stores
Made by C of C

Monday, Labor Day, will be just about as complete a holiday as possible in Washington C. H., a check of places of business by the Chamber of Commerce Thursday disclosed.

C. E. McCarley said Friday after scanning the survey results, that doors of stores, large and small, and offices throughout the uptown business section will be closed. He said the survey did not turn up a single one that would not observe Labor Day with the traditional holiday.

If any places of business are open Monday, they would be the neighborhood grocery stores in the residential section of the city, McCarley said the check showed. It was considered next to impossible to check all of the neighborhood stores.

Whether the stores that have been closed on Thursday afternoons through the summer will be open next week was not determined, McCarley merely commented that it has been customary for the stores to remain open on Thursday afternoons when there is another holiday in the same week.

No Record-Herald Monday

There will be no Record-Herald Monday, either; it has long been the custom for the newspaper to observe the holiday just like all other businesses.

The post office here will observe a partial holiday. The windows in the lobby will be closed and their will be no regular deliveries of mail, either in the city or on the rural routes. The lobby is to remain open, however. Special deliveries will be handled as usual and mail will be received and dispatched on regular schedules.

Labor Day also marks the end of the summer holiday for the more than 4,000 boys and girls in the city and county schools. They are to start back to classes on Tuesday.

Scouts Take an Overnight Trip

Three members of the Beaver Patrol of Scout Troop 152 got a lot of practical experience in camping during an overnight bicycling trip to the Ohio Wesleyan farm on the Camp Grove Road.

The boys, Jerry Donohoe, Richard McCarty and Ronnie McCarty, returned home Wednesday afternoon after spending the night on the farm.

After fixing their breakfast, the boys toured the neighboring area. They traveled six miles on their exploration trip and after lunch started their trip back to town.

The miles they covered during the entire trip will be credited to their record for cycling merit badges.

Driver Arrested

Vernon H. Freeland, truck driver, New Vienna, was arrested by police on a reckless operation charge and posted $25 bond for his appearance.

Altitude Record

British test pilot John Cunningham in a Vampire jet.

Bridgeman's plane was dropped from the bomb bay of a Superfortress at 35,000 feet and he immediately cut in the four powerful rocket tubes to curve upward in front of the bomber.

At 63,000 feet, Bridgeman's blood would have boiled had the Skyrocket's cabin not been pressurized. He wore a special new high altitude flying suit with a "fishbowl" helmet for protection in case the pressurization failed.

Bridgeman could have seen the vast curve of the earth had he had time to look, but he worked tensely in the cramped little cabin, scanning the wide range of his instrument panel.

Regardless of the exact height reached, Bridgeman could have taken the plane even higher, said E. H. Heinemann, Douglas' chief engineer "if he had decided to fly a missile-like trajectory or hold the plane vertically toward the heavens."

The Skyrocket has a wing span of 25 feet, is 40 feet long and weighs about 15,000 pounds.

Farmer Killed

Fifteen years ago Henthorne was in an automobile accident in which he sustained a fractured skull and one person with him was killed.

About a year ago he was burned severely in a gasoline explosion, Sheriff Hays said.

Henthorne had moved to the Hopkins farm from Zanesville last March.

He is survived by his widow, Olive; a daughter, Barbara, at home; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Henthorne of Zanesville.

His body was brought to the Gerstner Funeral Home and Friday morning was removed to the Hillis Funeral Home in Zanesville.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Three Nabbed On Suspicion

One Believed To Be After Drug

Three men, all of whom had been in trouble before, one with a record of 12 arrests, were picked up here by police about 10:30 P. M. Thursday, following complaint that a man who left in a car bearing a Tennessee license, had been prowling about Dr. Hugh Payton's automobile in Jeffersonville.

Driver of the car was James W. Vance, 46, Knoxville. With him was one man whom police said, was a drug addict and another who had served time for possessing morphine and a hypodermic needle.

Names of the two men were not given.

Vance was held on a charge of failing to have an operator's license and was released on $25 bond.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who was called in the case, assisted in questioning the trio, all of whom denied have been near the Payton automobile.

No charge was placed against the pair, but their addresses were obtained and Sheriff Hays turned the information over to the FBI for further action.

Whether the man who was searching the Payton car was one of the drug addicts who had been connected with thefts of medical kits from Washington C. H. physicians' automobiles in recent months, is not known.

Kentucky Club Raids

Guns and pistols burst in on the widely known Latin Quarter, and the Manana in what Capt. Estill Jones called the "most carefully planned" gambling crackdown by state police since they were organized in 1948.

The operation was carried out entirely by the Kentucky state officers. Local officers were not consulted.

The two raids caught the two clubs unaware.

Officers carted away a roulette wheel, slot machines, crap tables and other gambling equipment in four large trucks. At least $5,000 in cash, plus an estimated $14,000 more in a locked safe, were taken from the Latin Quarter alone, Jones said.

Charged with operating a disorderly house at the Club Manana was Mrs. Nina P. Feldman. She was released under $500 bond.

The four scantily clad girls arrested at the Manana were charged with breach of the peace and were released under $25 bond each.

Traffic Officer Was on Hot Seat

Traffic Officer Roy Mastin, while chasing a speeder Thursday evening, suddenly realized that his motorcycle was on fire and the heat was coming up beneath him.

He stopped the motorcycle, called for help from headquarters and Chief Hall responded with a hand extinguisher and the police cruiser rushed to the scene.

Mastin had cut wiring and had the fire extinguished before assistance arrived.

Damage was light.

Called Home after House Is Burglarized

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Harper of Wyandotte, Mich., who have been visiting Mrs. Harper's mother, Mrs. Ethelyn James, were called home Thursday after notification that their home had been broken into and ransacked.

The entire house had been torn up and things scattered about generally, the message said. Some of the clothing had been carried out upon the lawn.

Thursday Was One of Hottest Days of Year

Rain and cooler is the weather forecast, following Thursday, one of the hottest days of the year, when the mercury soared to 94 degrees and citizens sweated in the accompanying humidity.

Thundershowers and somewhat cooler Friday night, as well as Saturday, was the forecast, which will be welcomed by everyone.

Not only was Thursday one of the hottest days of the year, but the night also was one of the warmest, with a minimum of 71 degrees at an early hour Friday.

The reading at 8 A. M. Friday was 77 degrees, which was the peak reading a year ago.

Heat the past few days has done much toward further drying up the corn crop, which received momentary relief by a half inch of rain first of the week.

Driver Must Stop If Fowl Is Killed

Under a new state law which is now in effect, motorists whose cars kill tame fowl beside the highway, must stop.

But, it is explained, they can keep going if the chicken or other fowl is on the traveled surface of the highway when hit.

The new law requires drivers to stop and report to property owners if such accident occurs adjacent to the highway. If the owner is not around, the motorist must report to the county sheriff under penalty of a maximum of $100 fine and 30 days in jail.

The new law is designed to protect farmers from property damage resulting from reckless driving.
